PRESIDENT EXONORATES M'REYNOLDS FLAYS M'NAB

WILSON WRITES TO M'REYNOLDS

Agrees Prosecution of California
Cases Should Be Pushed.

ACCEPTS M'NAB'S RESIGNATION

Believes That Under the Circumstances Special Counsel Ought To Be Employed to Proceed Immediately in the Prosecution of the Indicted Men—Satisfied With Course Taken by Attorney General.

Washington, June 25.—In a letter to Attorney General McReynolds, President Wilson exonerated him from blame and adopted Mr. Reynolds' suggestion that the Caminetti-Diggs and the Western Fuel company cases be prosecuted immediately by special counsel for the government.

The president also wired United States Attorney John L. McNab of San Francisco, accepting the latter's resignation.

President Wilson's letter to Attorney General McReynolds follows:

"Allow me to acknowledge with sincere appreciation your letter giving me a full account of the way in which the department of justice has dealt with the Diggs-Caminetti and the Western Fuel company cases, pending in California, and transmitting the documents connected with the two cases necessary for their elucidation. I am entirely satisfied that the course you took in both the cases was prompted by sound and impartial judgment and a clear instinct for what was fair and right. I approve your course very heartily and without hesitation, but I agree with you that what we may think of what has been done does not relieve us of the obligation to press the case with the utmost diligence and energy. I approve your course very heartily of your suggestion that in the circumstance special counsel be employed, the ablest we can obtain. I will be very glad to confer with you about the selection. I hope that you will do this without delay. I am very glad indeed that you are giving your personal attention to the immediate and diligent prosecution of the cases, which I agree with you in regarding as of serious importance from every point of view."

Rebukes McNab.

The president's telegram accepting the resignation of District Attorney McNab carries a severe rebuke to the retiring official for the manner in which he tendered his resignation. This was the president's telegram: "I greatly regret that you should have acted so hastily and under so complete a misapprehension of the actual circumstances, but since you have chosen such a course and have given your resignation the form of an inexcusable intimation of injustice and wrongdoing on the part of your superior, I release you without hesitation and accept your resignation to take effect at once."

The president is considering the names of three men for special counsel to prosecute the white slave case. They are Francis J. Heney, one of the Bull Moose leaders in California; Matt J. Sullivan, a Democrat of San Francisco; and Thomas Hayden of San Francisco, who is also a Democrat. Heney prosecuted Abe Ruef, the convicted boss of San Francisco, on graft charges several years ago.

Cities of the Great Lakes Ready to Celebrate One Hundredth Anniversary of Perry's Victory.

National interest was aroused in the celebration this summer of the one hundredth anniversary of Perry's famous battle of Lake Erie. All the lake cities from Buffalo to Chicago are preparing for the celebration. It will last from July 4 till October, various cities celebrating at different times. A feature will be the unveiling of the Perry memorial monument at Put-In-Bay. Perry's old flagship has been raised from the bottom of the lake, and the water soaked hulk will be on exhibition. The upper picture shows how the hull appeared when partly out of water. The other view is of the monument as it will appear when erected.

SOME SWEEPING CHANGES MADE IN THE ADMINISTRATIVE FEATURES

BARS PRODUCTS OF CHILD LABOR

Change Made In Administrative Feature of Tariff Bill.

DENIED ENTRY INTO OUR PORTS

Paragraph as It Now Stands Will Likely Draw Vigorous Protest From Foreign Countries—Many Harsh Inquisitorial Features Stricken Out. Other Important Changes Made by the Senate Subcommittee.

Washington, June 25.—Sweeping changes have been made by the majority of the senate finance committee in the administrative features of the Underwood bill from the form in which it passed the house.

The hard work of revising this part of the tariff bill devolved on a subcommittee composed of Chairman Simmons, Senators Williams of Mississippi, Shively of Indiana and Gore of Oklahoma.

One of the most important changes made by the senate committee is the extension of paragraph one of section four of the Underwood bill which denies entry to ports of the United States of foreign-made goods which are the product of convict labor. As amended by the senate committee, it will exclude also the products of the labor of children under the age of 14. Exception is made in the case of immediate products of agriculture, forests and fisheries. This schedule in its new form is certain to arouse great interest. It not protest, from foreign countries.

The senate committee yielded to the protests of foreign nations to the extent of striking out many harsh inquisitorial features. It modified others. The proposed remission of 5 per cent of the duties carried by the bill

McNab's Suggestion In Cases of Diggs and Caminetti.

San Francisco, June 25.—When the cases of the Western Fuel company and Caminetti and Diggs came up in United States district court, District Attorney McNab said he had been ordered to postpone the cases, which had been passed upon by two grand juries. At the suggestion of counsel for the two Western Fuel magnates, their cases were postponed to July 15. Then the cases of Diggs and Caminetti were called, and at McNab's suggestion they were postponed to July 8.

Two Boys Drown In Pond.

Cleveland, O., June 25.—The capsizing of a raft on which they were playing resulted in the drowning of Walter Bra, 7, and Peter Bichalda, 7, in a pond at Stone's levee here. John Paszasar, 8, was rescued by workmen near by and revived with a pulmotor.

Lineman Electrocuted.

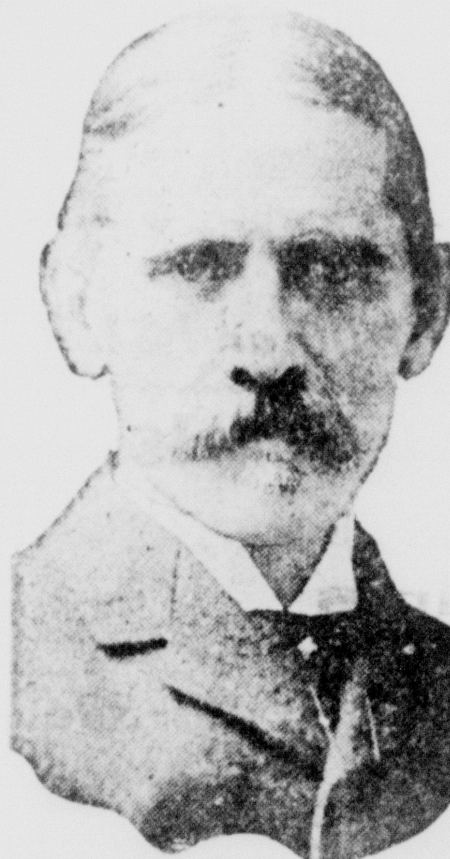

Ironton, O., June 25.—Harry Lane, lineman of the Central Union Telephone company, was electrocuted when he came in contact with a high-voltage charged wire while working on a pole near here. He leaves a widow and one child.

on all importations brought into the United States in American bottoms was omitted because it was believed it would violate treaties with more than 20 foreign countries.

Another important addition to the Underwood administrative features is a proviso which authorizes the president to impose retaliatory duties on certain specified articles on certain specified rates whenever any foreign country or subdivision "does not accord the products of the United States reciprocal and equivalent treatment."

REV. HENRY VAN DYKE

New Jersey Clergyman Appointed Minister to the Netherlands.

The Rev. Henry van Dyke, whom President Wilson has honored by making him the chief representative of the United States in the Netherlands, was born in Germantown, Pa., in 1852. He was ordained a Presbyterian minister in 1879. He is an author of note, having written many books, poems and essays. Since 1900 he has been professor of English literature at Princeton university.

WHAT, ANOTHER?

NEW INCOME TAX PLAN

Basis Proposed of $3,000 With Important Exemptions.

Washington, June 25.—Radical changes in the income tax plan of the Underwood tariff bill were agreed upon in a tentative way by the Democratic members of the senate finance committee. The income tax, under the new plan, would apply to individual incomes over $3,000, but would make important exemptions for individuals, municipalities, civic bodies and mutual insurance companies under certain conditions.

NUMBER DEAD, SIXTY INJURED

Buffalo Hospitals Filled With Victims, Many of Whom Are Fatally Hurt. Fire Quickly Follows the Explosion, Making Difficult the Work of Rescue—Many Bodies Believed In the Ruins.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 25.—From 25 to 30 lives will be the toll of the explosion which wrecked the mill and elevator of the Husted Milling company at South Buffalo. Four dead bodies have thus far been recovered and there are 62 injured in the various hospitals throughout the city, and the doctors estimate that at least 25 of them will die. There are some employees not yet accounted for, and their bodies may be found in the ruins.

There was no warning. With a roar that could be heard and felt for a mile the entire north side of the big plant was blown out. A second later flames burst from all parts, followed in two minutes by another explosion even more violent than the first. There were 170 men at work in the factory at the time, and all but about 25 have been accounted for. Whether they escaped or whether their bodies lie at the bottom of the great mass of the smoldering debris remains to be learned.

The scenes about the burning plant were heartrending. One body, that of Michael King, was blown through the side of the building and hurled to a house a hundred feet away. Henry Vetter, a foreman, met a like fate.

John Conroy, a Nickel Plate engineer, was crushed to death in the cab of his engine as he was passing the plant. An unidentified boy was killed in the wild scramble that followed the first alarm from the plant.

Work of Rescue Begins.

With the arrival of the first firemen the work of rescue began. Dozens of terribly burned men were carried out and soon every ambulance in the city was in commission. Patrolmen Thomas McNamara and Leonard Brooks saved 10 men from an upper window. The employees were terribly burned and their clothing was in flames when the policemen reached them. Many jumped from upper windows and were terribly hurt.

When the explosion first occurred Patrolman McNamara was on the scene. He saw a Nickel Plate passenger train approaching and knew it would run alongside the mill. He quickly ran down the track and flagged the train. It stopped as the second explosion occurred. Windows in the cars were broken and many passengers cut. However, had the train proceeded another hundred yards, it would have met the full force of this terrible explosion.

The majority of the men employed in the mill live in the locality. When the flames burst from the windows there was a rush of women to the scene and police had a hard battle to keep the grief-stricken relatives back. Forty of the injured men were carried to St. Stephen's church, nearby, when Father Barrett and his assistants performed the last rites for 25 who seemed to be fatally injured.

The factory was totally destroyed, with a loss of $500,000.

The explosion was caused by the puffing of dust accumulations in the feedhouse, and was of frightful force.

ANNUAL REUNION OF 54TH O. V. V. I.

The 54th O. V. V. I. held their 34th annual reunion at Memorial hall in this city June 18th, 1913, during the 47th annual encampment of the Department of Ohio G. A. R.

This reunion proved to be very interesting as some were here who had not for many years been present at previous meetings.

No formal program had been announced, but reminiscences of the old days that tried men's souls were recounted and memories of many comrades who have answered the last roll call were revived and sympathy expressed for those whose old age and affliction prevented from being present.

Mrs. Cora Snyder Kennedy, of Bellfontaine, daughter of Comrade Snyder of Company H, was present, and stated that her father was almost helpless from affliction, and it was not probable that he would ever be able to meet again the comrades he loved so well. Mrs. Kennedy was by unanimous vote made an honorary member of the regiment.

The following members were present: T. J. Lindsey, I. N. Rowe, J. P. Wyatt, David Hopkins, John Craig, and J. M. Baughn, of Washington; M. W. Elliott, W. T. Deall, Cincinnati; J. M. Anderson, Uhrichsville; Geo. Houghton, Grove City; Richard Campion, Dayton; Jos. Tipton, Hilliard; W. E. Tipton, Hilliard; Ab. Borrow, Grove City; Wm. H. Connor, Springfield; Robert Wells, Bushong, Kansas; Dennis Dorman, Greenfield; Jesse S. Miller, Lancaster; A. McClintock, Isaac Miller, George Connor, Wapakoneta; Joseph Driscoll, Bloomington; W. H. Christopher, Herrod; James Watt, Melvin Lock, Lima; Samuel Myers, Cloverdale; Pat Driscoll, Isaac Smith, Sandusky; John W. Young, Greenfield; William Ducey, Kokomo, Ind.

The reunion for 1914 will be held at Lima, Ohio.

ASSESSOR BALKS OTHERS ON JOB

Ward Assessor Refuses Point Blank to Complete His Work and Other Assessors are Sent Into Ward With View to Returning Correct Valuations—Laxity of Duty in Past Years Hinted—Gave Low Valuations and Received Big Vote Each Time.

An assessor of personal property refusing to complete his work is what the Ross county officials have to contend with, and although five weeks have passed since the fellow should have made his report, he did not go near the Auditor's office until taken there by an officer.

The story, which is extraordinary and full of general interest is told by the Chillicothe News, which says:

"The City Board of Review on Tuesday morning sent William L. Burgoon and J. M. Bobblett into the Fourth ward to make an assessor's canvass. As was stated in Monday's issue this became necessary because James P. Crain, the elected assessor in the ward had failed to make his returns as ordered.

"It develops that Crain had been notified five times by letter by Auditor Alexander to hurry up his work, but he paid no attention to these. On Saturday an officer was sent after Crain and when he appeared before the board his books had not been touched and less than one-third of the houses had been canvassed.

"The two assessors who have had years of experience in other wards and who are good men at the work, were notified to make a complete new return and to try and complete it within two weeks time. The flood made many changes in the ward and the board is anxious to know what the exact conditions are.

"The Board of Review has never been satisfied with the returns made from the Fourth ward. Although there have been in the neighborhood of nearly 3000 residents in the ward, the returns each year were much smaller than those made from Kingston, Frankfort, Bainbridge, etc., where there are only from 700 to 900 inhabitants.

"Last year while other wards in the city were returning as high as $250,000 in personal property, the returns from the Fourth ward were only about $120,000, and the taxing officials feel certain that there is considerable hidden property there. They feel certain at least that Messrs. Burgoon and Bobblett will find whatever there is to be taxed.

"Crain has been for years the assessor in the Fourth ward and while he was always careless in his returns he never could be defeated in the precinct. On numerous occasions he led the majority in the ward and got over 100 majority. It was cases of this kind that suggested the new taxing laws, whereby assessors will be appointed, instead of elected by the people."

Claim Joint Worm Is Busy Again

Columbus, O., June 23.—Notwithstanding the optimistic reports sent out by the state board of agriculture the 1913 wheat crop is not going to reach any unusual yield, according to W. H. Phillips, entomological assistant of the United States department of agriculture, who visited Columbus today.

He is touring Indiana, Ohio and Michigan for the purpose of investigating the extent of damage this year due to the wheat joint worm, one of the worst pests of middle western farmers.

"Wheat does look a bit better this year than it did last," said Mr. Phillips, "but all through the southern end of the state I find that the joint worm is very busy. The average field is infested about 50 per cent and in many cases the wheat crop will suffer an infestation of from 75 to 80 per cent. I am finding from two to three joints of the wheat stalks affected, with from ten to fifteen worms at each joint."

The joint worms are recognized by the formation of hard, woody places just above the joints of the wheat, and according to the government representative there is no treatment that seems to get rid of them. The formation of these woody joints makes the stalks bend over, and cuts the yield down, when a severe season is experienced, about one half.

STRIKES TWICE IN SAME PLACE

The old saying that "lightning never strikes twice in the same place" was proven false a night or two ago when lightning again shattered the spire of the Presbyterian church in Hillsboro.

During a storm some two years ago the same steeple was struck and badly damaged. The Hillsboro incident is not the only one, however, where lightning has struck the same object twice, as it has been known to strike a tree twice during one storm.

PASTOR CALLED BY LOCAL CHURCH

At a specially called meeting at the Presbyterian church Tuesday night the church members voted to extend a unanimous call to Rev. William Boyton Gage, of Des Moines, Ia., to accept the pastorate of their church.

Rev. Gage preached last Sunday, both morning and evening, and the congregation was enthusiastic over the eloquence and force of his sermons, as well as the strong personality of the speaker. He is a young man, whose record in Des Moines is highly gratifying and Presbyterians are earnestly hoping that the call will be accepted.

Rev. Moore, of Bloomingburg Presbyterian church, moderated the meeting and Hon. C. A. Reid, of the session, presented the report of committee on pastor, recommending Rev. Gage.

Should the call be accepted it is not expected that Rev. Gage will take up pastoral duties until the first of September. His family consists of himself and wife.

DETROITER IS WINNER

Miss Adine Buck, of Fort Worth, Texas, won the silver cup in the 1913 Fort Worth automobile endurance contest of 198 miles, which was run recently. She drove a Detroit car. The most remarkable feature is that she had not driven an automobile more than 29 miles before the contest, and that was entirely on the morning of the day of the race and on city pavements. The car carried two passengers besides the driver and the entire distance was covered on something less than five gallons of fuel.

SIDEWALKS RESUME FORMER CONDITION

Pedestrians who are compelled to pass over the sidewalks on the north, south and west sides of the Central school grounds have been put to a great deal of inconvenience during the recent rains as a result of the deluge of mud and water which swept down upon the walks from the newly graded school grounds. They will be glad to see the rains cease so they will have sound footing once more.

For a long time the sidewalks have been in anything but the best of condition as a result of the building operations, and since the work of grading the grounds started some weeks ago the need of restraining walls along the terrace has become more and more apparent, and all will be greatly pleased when the work is eventually finished and the sidewalks are free from mud and water or a deep accumulation of dust.

CONCRETE BUMPER FIRST OF ITS KIND

A new concrete bumper has been constructed at the end of one of the B. & O. sidings at the freight depot in this city and is one of the first of its kind to be constructed by the road in this part of the state. It is also the first of its kind to be constructed in this city.

Various other bumpers have been tried at the point where the big concrete block now stands, but all have proven worthless, and time after time they have given way under the great force of switching trains. It is believed the new bumper will withstand the test indefinitely.

Fortunately no serious damage was done to either horses or binder.

NEARLY ENOUGH NAMES SECURED

Before the close of another day enough names will be attached to the petitions asking the City Council to submit to the voters the question of a charter commission for the city, and an early meeting of the City Council will probably be called to take action on the petitions.

Wednesday morning the number of names was only forty short of the required number, with the petitions filling up rapidly.

Pensions for Mothers

One bit of legislation—the Mothers' Pension law—enacted by the last General Assembly of Ohio, has not received that widespread publicity which it should have received, owing perhaps to the great number of other laws passed at the last session.

To the fact that the measure has not been very generally under consideration, may, perhaps, be attributed the absence of favorable comment which the sponsors of the law feel it is entitled to have.

Just how, of course, the law will work out in practical application is a problem in this instance as well as in other instances of new laws.

That there will be some abuses is possible and that there will be attempts made to take advantage of the humane provisions of the law is highly probable.

Admitting that to be true, however, all must agree that the law is a splendid one in theory and one which should work as much good in practical operation as its backers claim it will, so far as any objection to it yet urged, is concerned.

The children of the poor and needy will make much better men and women for the oncoming generation, if left under the care of the mother and held together in the little home circle, be that home ever so humble, than they will if separated and confined in institutions presided over by those who have no further interest in the child and its future, that to literally discharge their official duty to it—to see that it is clothed and fed and housed.

There is in these public institutions, no matter how well they are managed nor how efficient the men and women in charge are, that lack of real interest which means so much to the growing child—that something which only the mother can give that something which is balm to the wounded feelings and that something which makes the child feel that the real support is there to rely upon.

Clothes, food and shelter, while necessary to the physical child, are not the real means of molding the character of the future men and women of the state.

Properly administered, the Mothers' Pension law should pay big dividends in better men and women—the money spent, even though it exceeds that present spent for the care of the children of the state will be a splendid investment.

In addition it is humane and the great state of Ohio can afford to be humane even if it costs money, and humane acts are always profitable in the long run.

All in Accord

We, all of us, know that this agitation for better roads is nation wide. Wherever the public is required to pass from point to point on business or pleasure (and that is everywhere in the land now since every section has been settled up) no matter how rich or how poor some may be, all demand better wagon roads.

On the heels of the announcement that the Federal government is going to bear the lion's share of the expense of paying with the best quality of vitrified brick that section of the grand old National road between Zanesville and Columbus, we are notified that away out yonder in Washington, Uncle Sam's mail carriers have gotten busy, organized and informed the people that better mail service will come with better roads.

It's true too. Uncle Sam is working both ends of this good roads movement—here in Ohio federal aid in good sized bunches is proffered and yonder in Washington the federal employees say, give us the means and we will give you the results.

People everywhere, in cities and in the rural districts, have been made to realize by the sharp pinch of inconvenience and discomfort the need of good roads and nation, state, communities and individuals, so long at sixes and sevens on the road problem are now approaching at a rapid rate, common ground, where all want to do and can do.

With all forces combined there is less likelihood of failure through each one waiting for the other to move.

Now all are moving and to the same end. Something that has never occurred before.

Women Are Best Fitted For Homemaking

By Dr. SIMON BARUCH, Professor of Hydrotherapy, Columbia University

I WOULD not say that genius is a masculine quality, for woman has shown the GENIUS FOR CIVILIZATION, for home building, and I believe that there is nothing that man can do that would equal the IMPORTANCE OF HOMEMAKING, of civilization. Without that what would we have amounted to? Emerson said, "The influence of good women is the test of civilization."

But whenever woman deviates from her finest feminine qualities she LOSES THE REAL POWER that enabled her to bring about civilization.

WHEN HER FEMININE QUALITIES ARE MERGED INTO MASCULINE QUALITIES SHE FAILS TO ACCOMPLISH IMPORTANT WORK.

Poetry For Today

A DAY IN JUNE.

And what is so rare as a day in June?
Then, if ever, come perfect days;
Then heaven tries earth if it be in tune,
And over it softly her warm ear lays;
Whether we look, or whether we listen,
We hear life murmur, or see it glisten,
Every clod feels a stir of might,
An instinct within it that reaches and towers,
And groping blindly above it for light
Climbs to a soul in grass and flowers.
The flush of life may well be seen
Thrilling back over hills and valleys;
The cowslip startles in meadows green,
The buttercup catches the sun in its chalice,
And there's the never a leaf nor a blade
Too mean
To be some happy creature's palace
The little bird sits at its door in the sun,
Aflame like a blossom among the leaves,
And lets his illumined being o'errun
With the deluge of summer it receives.
His mate feels the eggs beneath her wings,
And the heart in her dumb breast flutters and sings;
He sings to the wide world, and she to her nest—
In the nice ear of nature which song is the best?

Now is the high tide of the year,
And whatever of life hath ebbed away
Comes flooding back with a rippling cheer
Into every bare inlet and creek and bay.
Now the heart is so full that a drop overfills it.
We are happy now because God wills it.
—James Russell Lowell.

Paved Highway Now Assured

Columbus, O., June 24.—Governor Cox has announced that the old national road between Columbus and Zanesville will be paved at a cost of $360,000 for the 49 miles or more than $7,200 a mile, within the next year, with funds provided partly by the federal government and partly by the counties through which the road passes.

It is probable that brick will be used, though the material has not been decided as yet.
As the result of the visit of State Highway Commissioner James R. Marker to Washington last week, $128,000 was set aside for Ohio from the $500,000 appropriated by congress to be distributed among the states for use in improving postal roads. A condition is that each county must spend twice as much as the amount of the appropriation utilized within its boundaries.

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS

(By John E. M. Kerr.)

The development of the wonders of cold storage has done more than any other one thing to make life on the ocean wave one long round of joy, says a writer in Leslie's Weekly. Cold storage gives you the best in the world to eat and every day in the year. A traveler was telling the other day that he had eaten grapefruit every morning all round the world. The ship on which he sailed put in a large amount of ice cream made in New York, and 110 days later, when he arrived in San Francisco, he was still eating New York ice cream.

Revenue received from the sale of parcel post stamps during the first three months of the operation of the system, totaled $7,976,517. During the period approximately 150,000,000 parcel post packages were handled by the postal service. Chicago led all the cities in the number of parcels handled and in the amount of stamps sold the latter being $1,254,469.

The New York Railway company got permission last week to abandon the last horse-car lines in Manhattan. These lines of horse cars caused much fun for visitors to the metropolis and while the public service having desired the removal has insisted the work be done at the company's own expense, and that the streets be restored to the city in perfect condition.

In the presence of a large crowd of people at Valley Forge, Miss Eleanor Wilson, daughter of the President, unveiled last week a handsome monument erected to the memory of the New Jersey troops of the Continental army, which spent the winter of 1777-78 in camp there.

The shaft which is of granite, is surmounted by a figure of a soldier. It cost $50,000.

The great railroad systems of transportation now employ some 2000 women in almost every capacity. Uncle Sam is excellent authority for the statement that 31 women are employed as railway brakemen and 10 as baggage-men. According to the same reliable source of information the census bureau, there are 45 women engineers and firemen. 26 of the industrious feminine workers are enrolled as switchmen, yardmen and flagmen. The above mentioned are with steam roads. On the other hand, 2 women act as motormen on street railways, 13 as drivers and 46 as conductors.

The New Orleans Item in a recent issue printed a 21-page section devoted to an advertisement of Woodward, Wright and Co., a general supply depot of the city. The item states that as far as they know this is the largest hardware advertisement ever carried by a newspaper in this country. It cost more than $4000 for the one issue.

The Newark (N. J.) Star has inaugurated a new feature that has proved to be popular with its readers. In brief, the interest of the pupils of the various grades within its territory of circulation is aroused in a sort of competition to determine which can produce by its unaided efforts the best page. One school page appears each week. It is written, illustrated and edited by the boys and girls, all the features of their own devising. The young people have entered into the project with a will and have produced some clever pages which have won immediate commendation of the general reader, and those who are interested in watching the "young idea how to shoot."

Following is the class poem written and read by a Washington C. H. boy, T. H. Everhart, who graduated this month with an A. B. degree from the Ohio Northern University.

A VIEW OF LIFE.

In every sea and every clime
A mighty choir of God is heard;
O'er all the world its sound sublime
Proclaims to man with heart deep stirred
That earthquake shock and lightnings riven,
That billowy seas and tempest's roar
Are but the coarser notes of heaven—
A harmony of nature's store.
In unison with man's

The rose that grows in lonely dell
Seems useless in its place,
But could we know its purpose there
Or see its hidden grace,
To us would come a lesson deep
Such as the poet sings—
Each phase of nature plays its part,
There's meaning in all things.

Thus is mankind an orchestra,
Each one but plays a part,
However great or small he be
He's precious to God's heart.
His life, his work, is just as high
As though he were a king,
If only it fulfill His plan,
Then is it no small thing.

So in the symphony of life
The Leader only pleads
That each one's Harp be in accord
With the chorus that He leads.
Then as the ages come and go
And each one finds his place
So will the great world plan thus be
Objectified through grace.

Yet, true it is, discords are heard,
A heart is out of tune,
The sins of man creep and mar
Earth's fair and pure domain,
But evil does not form a part
Essential to His plan,
For in the end the good will win
And claim the best in man.

Yea, win he shall as sure result
Are rectified by good,
When man to man shall feel a bond
Of higher brotherhood,
As o'er this earth there grows in power
A sense of social man,
Then shall each life seek to remove
His own, his neighbor's ban.

The beggar groveling in the dust,
His life is out in part,
A hidden pearl lies there, just as
In every human heart.
Then may that feeble light which burns
E'en in the foulest life
Be fanned to glow and purify
That soul with evil life.

A little good where'er it be
Can never be erased,
So will the bad exist, until
By good it is replaced.
As evil wrecks itself, the right
Itself conserves anew,
Then true perfection is the goal
This world is tending to.

For back of every life there lies
A force concealed from view,
A driving power that spurs one on,
The ought that he should do.
Tho' in its depths or on the throne
Each heart an ideal keeps;
A pace ahead it beckons on
Up higher, nobler steps.

What tho' a few false notes are heard,
Would man give up free will,
The power to choose the right to do,
Or help replace another's ill?
Ah no, that spark eternal which Makes us infinity,
That light brings to this finite clay
An immortality.

Yea, only thro' a sovereign will
A moral life can come;
By choice, the germ of self blooms out
That came from God our home.
Then as the bearded grain comes forth
From tender bud and flower,
So grows from deeds a life mature
The work of innate power.

Then loyal is that man who strives
The truest good to gain,
To choose the newest and best things
Whose hero has no stain.
So as the great world choir resounds
From mountain unto sea,
For all, not self, each tunes his lute;
This is morality.

And now a vision clear reveals
The future unto me;
This dear old class is scattered far
O'er land from sea to sea.
In every walk of life they move
Each does his little part,
Those members of that class we loved
Now work with hand and heart.

None high, none low, tho' far apart
With skill they play as one,
All faithful to the Master mind
Whose final will is done,
Triumphant o'er the selfishness

That keep men out of tune,
True victors over mortal clay
Eternal life have hewn.

Thus as the ages pass away
More grand and stately mansions rise;
Some new Harp joins this choir each day
Whose sound reechoes to the skies.
So moves this earthly train of life;
Each adds his all—his little mite,
Eternal good or transient strife.
Man steps from darkness into light.
A world plan fulfilled.

NEW DISTRICT IS ASKED FOR

Property Owners Near Greenfield Ask That Special District Be Established in Southern Perry Township, and Probate Judge Allen Will Consider Petition.

A petition has been filed with Probate Judge Allen asking that a special school district be established in southern Perry township near the Highland county line and also near Greenfield and action will probably be taken on the petition the latter part of next month.

The taking valuation of property included in the special district petitioned for, is $338,740. and the petitioners allege that if their prayer is granted they will obtain better educational facilities. The petitioners are: W. O. Beatty, M. U. King, C. E. Cockerill, Chas. Lough, J. J. Duncan, W. A. Saum, W. F. Fullerton, C. O. Betty, Jas. F. Beatty, Wm. Sollars, J. N. Beatty, Jas. Connell, Jas. Watt, J. H. Will, C. E. Taylor, G. W. Luvell, E. S. Beatty, Otis W. Taylor, W. A. Bonner, D. O. Duncan, and E. N. Cockerill.

The description of the proposed district reads:

Beginning at a point in Paint creek in the south east corner of Perry township, at the line of Highland county; thence in a westerly direction with said Highland county and Perry township line, to a point in the west line of the W. L. Porter lands and corner to J. H. Giller; thence northerly along the west line of the lands of said Porter and Leslie O. Limes to the line of M. U. and M. E. King; thence westerly along the south line of said King lands to their southwest corner; thence in a northerly direction along the west line of the lands of said King, and the west line of the lands of C. O. Beatty, following their line beyond an angle to the northeast along the east line of J. Ritter estate to the line of Hannah E. Coffman; thence southeasterly along the south west line of said Coffman and the northeast line of said Beatty to the south corner of said Coffman lands; thence northeasterly along the south line of said Coffman and Mary E. Duncan, and along the line of the said Beatty and James Beatty to the center of the Greenfield and Washington pike; thence southerly with the center of said pike to the land line on the north of Chas. Lough; thence easterly along his north line to the center of Paint creek; thence following the center of Paint creek in a southerly direction to the place of beginning.

NO SUBSTITUTE COULD DO THIS.

No inferior substitute, but only the genuine Foley Kidney Pills could have rid J. F. Wallich, Bartlett, Neb., of his kidney trouble. He says: "I was bothered with backache, and the pain would run up to the back of my head, and I had spells of dizziness. I took Foley Kidney Pills and they did the work and I am now entirely rid of kidney trouble. My father-in-law, now past 93 years, has taken them and they have added years to his life." CRIMINAL ACTION AGAINST CROOKED COUNTY OFFICIALS

State Banking Department and Prosecutor Johnson of Greene County After Scalps of Osborn Bank Officials Who Are Accused of Making Wild Speculations with Money Entrusted to Their Care—Forged Bonds Come to Light—Cashier C. C. Jackson Uneasy, Consults Attorney.

New developments are taking place each day in the Osborn bank failure. It is alleged that the wildest kind of speculation in "Blue Sky" schemes brought about the crash, and the State Banking Department and the officials of Greene county are preparing papers for criminal action against the officers of the defunct bank.

The Osborn school board, trustees of the township in which Osborn is located and Greene county itself will be plaintiffs in suits against the defunct bank.

C. C. Jackson, cashier, has been in Xenia consulting his attorney, and is much worried over the ticklish situation for which he is held responsible. He was made party to a suit for the collection of a note for $5000 and will be one of the main ones in the other suits.

Some of the latest startling developments in connection with the case are told by the Xenia Gazette which says in part:

"Attorney Robert Black, of Cincinnati, chief counsel of the State Banking department, announced Monday that he proposed to take up the matter of the prosecution of the officials of the Osborn bank on criminal charges early this week. The investigation into the affairs of the defunct bank is being pushed forward steadily. The floating of the Tyler City bonds that were found to be missing from the Osborn bank vaults by Attorney Black, and which Trustee Jackson claims he did not sign, were put on the market by page advertisements that appeared in many of the small newspapers in the neighborhood of the home of Schoenberger. The advertisement in the most appealing manner promised all sorts of desirable things to investors.

"It was discovered Monday that on one of the Tyler city bonds of a $100 denomination along the line where C. C. Jackson as trustee is supposed to have signed his name, but which he disclaims all knowledge of, that whoever had started to sign this particular bond had evidently forgotten that his first initial was supposed to be 'C', and had started to write the letter 'J'. This is considered a little suspicious when the fact is taken into consideration that these are the bonds that are supposed to be forgeries.

"It seems that the Tyler city proposition and the Elk Manor Coal Co. are not all of the deals that the J. G. Russell company and the Osborn bank are involved in, as there is a West Virginia proposition that was also promoted and of which a number of blocks of stocks are said to be up on the market."

We like an employee for the work he does but we also like him for the way he does his work.

WHEAT CUTTING FIRST OF WEEK

Farmers are making arrangements for cutting wheat next week, and a few are planning to open their fields the latter part of this week.

Everyone is greatly pleased with the prospects of a bumper crop, and while the joint worm has been busy in many fields, the general damage will not be heavy, it is claimed, and unless a windstorm breaks the wheat to the ground it will go into the shock in excellent condition. The recent rains have been very beneficial to the crop.

MAY HAVE ANOTHER MOTOR ENGINE HERE

Safety Director McLellan is still investigating the motor truck fire engines, and within a short time one of the Ahrens Fox fire engines will probably be shipped here from Cincinnati and demonstrated for the benefit of Council.

The Ahrens Fox Fire Engine Co. build one of the highest grade engines on the market, and is like the one used in Circleville.

WILL ENGAGE IN BUSINESS HERE

Mr. O. F. Sturgeon will open a tire repair shop opposite Dale's Furniture store on West Court street in a few days. Mr. Sturgeon is an experienced automobile man and has been connected with garages all over the state. He brought his family from Springfield to this city, which he expects to make their future home.

'AIN'T IT THE TRUTH?'

Once there was a member of Congress who had served two years and whose voice had not yet been heard on the floor of the House. When he got home after the session, one of his constituents quizzed him about it. "You never open your mouth during the session," he said. "What do you do there while they're debating?"

The granger statesman cut a fresh chaw from his plug. He placed it carefully where it would do the most good. "Mostly I just sets there and thinks," he replied. "And sometimes," he added, "I jest sets there."

James Thomas McDermott of Illinois might with propriety have set for that story. If he has ever said anything, it was "yea" and "nay" when the roll was called. Mr. McDermott came into Congress from the stock yards district of Illinois, and he doesn't hold the stock yards vote by making speeches on currency or Philippine independence, or reciprocity with Canada. "No, I never join in the debates," he once explained. "Why should I? I am no talker, anyhow. Underwood's the leader. I vote the way he tells me. What's the use of being leader if you're going to have no followers? I'm one of the followers."

When the committee appointments were announced, he found himself a member of the Committee on Agriculture and of the Committee of Education. "Most appropriate selections that could have been made for me," he said approvingly. "There isn't a blade of grass in my district, and I never went to school a day in my life."

B. & O. DETECTIVE LANDS HIS MAN

B. & O. Detective Clarence Kelly, of Chillicothe, who has had a number of lively tussles with bad men since his employment by the B. & O. nearly fell victim to a deadly knife thrust Monday night when Lafette Gillon, a drunken desperado of Wellston, became unruly and pulled a ugly knife, which he tried to plunge into the detective's body.

After a short struggle with the fellow, during which the detective was slashed on the hand, he struck the man a blow in the face which quieted him until he was loaded into a patrol wagon. He was later given $30 and the costs and transferred to Xenia to make brooms.

PLANS TO ENLIGHTEN BEWILDERED VOTERS

Secretary of State Contemplates
Placing Pamphlet of Information
In The Hands of Every Voter in The State.

Secretary of State Graves has evolved a plan by which he expects to be able to place a pamphlet in the hands of every voter of the state, giving the text of every constitutional proposal and measure to be submitted to the people for approval or rejection, together with arguments both for and against each proposition.

The new constitution and also the new Biglow act makes it the duty of the secretary of state to provide for publicity and distribution of these pamphlets and $50,000 was appropriated for the expense at the recent legislative session.

The Biglow act directs the secretary of state to secure a roster of the names of all voters and mail the pamphlets to each from his office, but as the constitution permits of an easier way of dissemination of the information to be conveyed by the pamphlets, Secretary Graves will resort to it.

He says that it would be impracticable to try to obtain and maintain a record in his office of all the voters of the state who number some two or three hundred thousand more than a million. He might be able to do this if he could avail himself of the services of every person employed by the state, and had unlimited funds at his disposal for the expenses.

Secretary Graves will distribute the pamphlets through the county election boards. He will ascertain from each board the number of voters in each county, and he will send to each board the number it needs. In registration cities, as each voter steps into the booth, he will be given the pamphlet. In communities without registration, and in rural districts, the secretary of state will pay the election officers to mail the pamphlets to the voters. They will get a quarter of a cent for each envelope addressed.

The arguments for and against each measure must not exceed 300 words. If the general assembly is in session when a petition is filed with the secretary of state for the submission of a measure under the initiative and referendum that body will appoint a committee of three to prepare an explanation of the measure and if it is not in session then the governor appoints the committee.

The arguments against a proposition will be prepared by a committee selected by those most actively opposing it. Governor Cox will appoint the committees which will prepare the arguments in favor of the ratification of the several administrative measures which the Ohio State Board of Commerce, the Ohio Equity association, the liability compensation and others are fighting through the initiative and referendum.

The Green workmen's compensation act, the Kilpatrick act to amend the Smith one per cent law, the Warnes act to provide for the appointment of county tax deputies, and the Cunningham agricultural commission act are the administrative measures which have drawn the fire of the interests.—Exchange.

Cleveland, O., June 25.—One man was killed, three persons were seriously injured, half a dozen others were stunned and several hundred others were thrown into a panic when lightning struck a pavilion at Willow Beach park here. All were members of the First Unitarian church of Cleveland, on their annual picnic. The dead man was F. H. Mansfield, sexton of the church. The seriously injured were: Thomas H. White, president of the White Sewing Machine company, his wife, and Mrs. Harry Hyatt. They will recover.

BLISS' REPORT IS THE BASE INDICTMENTS FOUND IN GALLIA COUNTY

Result of Probe Conducted By Special Examiner.

Gallipolis, O., June 25.—As a result of the examination made by Special Examiner John E. Bliss of Columbus into graft charges against Gallia county officials, the special grand jury reported 22 indictments.

Harry M. Womeldorf, superintendent of the county infirmary, was indicted on 10 counts, one alleging embezzlement of county funds and nine charging certifying false bills. Three indictments were found against Edward Womeldorf, hardware merchant and brother of the infirmary superintendent, one charging perjury and two certifying false bills for goods sold to the infirmary. Millard F. Leonard, former county surveyor, was indicted on the charge of soliciting and accepting bribes in connection with county road work. An indictment also was returned against Harry L. Cabot, mayor of Gallipolis, alleging assault and battery.

The charges state that Superintendent Womeldorf purchased silk stockings for the use of his family and charged the expense to the county. Toilet goods were also bought for private use and charged as hoof ointment and horse powders, the indictments say. Edward Womeldorf, the hardware merchant, according to the charges, sold a bicycle and gun and other goods to the infirmary and charged them as wire fencing.

A WORKER APPRECIATES THIS.

It is true that women more frequently suffer from kidney trouble than men. It is also true they suffer more intensely, owing to their more sensitive organism. Katherine L. Norton, New Bedford, Mass., says: "I had a terrible pain across my back, with a burning and scalding feeling. I took Foley Kidney Pills as advised, with results certain and sure. The pain and burning feeling left me, I felt toned up and invigorated. I am glad to recommend Foley Kidney Pills." They are tonic in action, quick in results. Blackmer & Tanquary.

NEW TREATY WITH RUSSIA

Jewish Question Likely to Prove an Obstacle to Negotiations.

Washington, June 25.—Secretary Bryan has informed the government of Russia that the United States is agreeable to the opening of discussions looking to the negotiation of a new treaty to take the place of the treaty of 1832, abrogated because of the Jewish passport issue. The discussions, which will probably take place at Washington, have not yet begun, as no response has yet been received from Russia.

However, as President Wilson is committed against receding from the Jewish passport question, and as Russia is determined not to yield her right to exclude Jews from her territory whenever she sees fit, there is little expectation here that the proposed discussions if ever begun will lead to any definite result.
